About Us

Smt. Lata Education and Welfare Trust, founded on the 24th of July, 2006, is a shining example of unwavering commitment to positive change. Every year, our health center extends its healing touch to hundreds, addressing their medical needs and fostering well-being. Simultaneously, our technical center equips dozens of individuals with the skills and knowledge necessary to empower themselves and find gainful employment, promoting self-sufficiency.

In our steadfast mission to leave no one behind, our residential school has provided a loving home and quality education to countless orphaned, handicapped, deaf, and dumb children, offering them a path towards a brighter future. The growth of forests nurtures the environment, and the creation of Ayurvedic medicines derived from trees offers holistic wellness solutions. Our farm not only ensures food security but also generates income, supporting our multifaceted programs for health and environmental awareness that reach thousands. Self-help groups have become vehicles of transformation, elevating the lives of many individuals and communities. Moreover, the establishment of a residential school and the operation of a printing press have broadened our capacity to serve and educate, touching the lives of thousands annually.

Over the years, Smt. Lata Education and Welfare Trust has consistently made a significant impact on the lives of the people we serve, fostering well-being and environmental sustainability. Our unwavering commitment to these causes has been a source of positive change and a beacon of hope for the community, underlining our dedication to a better, brighter future.

Every small act of kindness has the power to create ripples of positive change that can touch lives far beyond our imagination.
